To Whom It May Concern,

I support Props 11 and 20's objective to take redistricting out of the Legislature's hands to obtain fair and redistricting without taking partisan politics into consideration. I live in Shasta County. Shasta, Siskiyou and Tehama Counties and the cities and towns within their boundaries share interests as a rural area, with an agriculture-centered economy, with water, timber and related interests and should be kept whole in any redistricting plan.

Please support Props 11 and 20 and don't turn this redistricting move into a political kind of manipulation.

Thank you.

Dear Members of the Commission:

I5 and Highway 99 are major economic and social connections that link northern counties; therefore, these jurisdictions should not be divided bringing from three Congressional members and three state Senate members to one!

We request that the lines should be similar to those drawn by judges in 1990 not the lines drawn up in 2000 by politicians.

Thank you for your support in the above cited major concern.

Most sincerely,
Dan Fisher

To Whom It May Concern,

I am a registered voter in Shasta County and have been for many years. I support the intent of Propositions 11 and 20 to remove redistricting from the hands of partisan politicians. I believe it can be demonstrated that there are three distinct areas/ zones/ districts in the north-state that exhibit unique cultural, economic, geographic, and transportation characteristics. The coastal, central corridor, and Sierra districts share within their boundaries, common resources, interests, mobility issues, economies, and cultural histories. These are the issues, I believe should be considered foremost in determining boundaries for redistricting. If these areas are represented by a horizontal delineation into one district, rather than the three districts that currently recognize the issues I outlined above, there will be no cohesive voice representing each of these unique and diverse areas of California. People with common interests deserve representatives at all levels to speak on their behalf.
